Who is Future First?

Future First is a charity who helps schools like ours stay in contact with their students from the day they leave.

Why keep in touch?

Building your CV

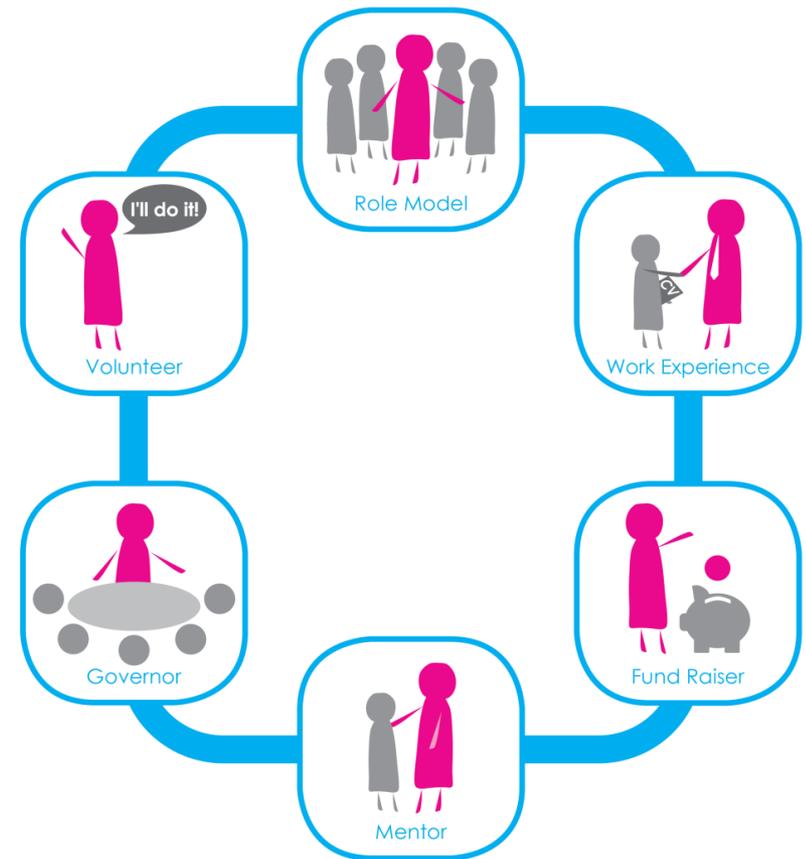

Whether you've started thinking about it now, or you need a helping hand in the future, your old teachers might be able to offer advice/opportunities to gain work experience and learn new skills even after you leave.

Staying connected

Updates on upcoming events and all the latest gossip sent directly to your inbox.

Getting a job

Future First and your old school might find out about jobs you could apply for and other cool opportunities to get involved with...saves your time trawling the internet!

Why keep in touch?

Giving something back

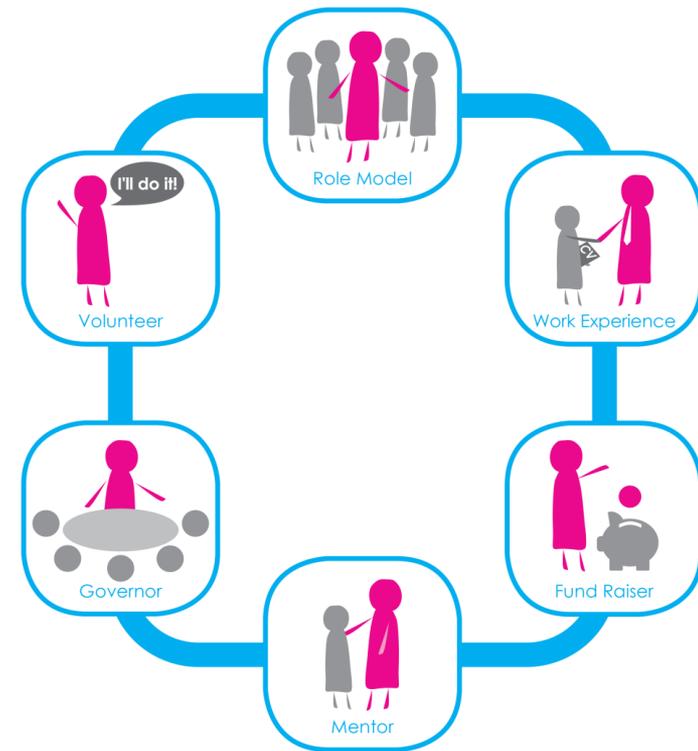

Just because you've left, it doesn't mean you have to stop getting involved in the things you enjoy. For instance, you could get involved with coaching your old football team, help out directing a play or editing the termly magazine.

Helping others

Would you have benefitted from hearing from former students in jobs? Keep in touch and, a little further down the line, you might talk about your experiences to students in your old seats!

Asking for a reference

If you stay in touch now, some of your old teachers might be able to help you out getting your dream job in the future by providing references for your future employer.

Sign up Today!

Signing up is easy and will take no more than 1-2 minutes.

All you need to do is:
